The Artists Cooperative of Savanna will present an open house on November 14 at their 321 Art Gallery for a photography exhibit by Cecil Johnson. The public is invited to a free catered reception from 6 to 8 PM.

Johnson grew up in Savanna, and returned to live there four years ago, after military duty and his retirement from a working career in Rockford, IL. His interest in photography began during a tour of duty in Morocco in 1961. He studied photography and received on the job training from instructors and experienced photographers during part time work in portrait studio, church, and wedding photography. His work in Rockford as an industrial buyer provided additional knowledge of photography, graphics, computer, and related processing equipment and applications; he also attended courses in advanced Photoshop applications and now practices advanced computer graphics. Though he has used large format and single lens reflex film cameras, along with a variety of digital cameras, digital single lens reflex, (through the lens viewing) cameras are now his preferred equipment.

Johnson has always been an avid wildlife photographer and has conducted several photography workshops at the Ingersoll Wetlands Learning Center at Springlake (south of Savanna) and recently gave one for the Palisades Art League at the 321 Art Gallery. His workshops provide a training presentation which includes his original work and experience in working knowledge of digital photography and equipment primarily for the beginner and intermediate shooter, including emphasis on the person's observation skills.

He has also overseen outdoor portrait shoots for the Cancer Society Relay for Life benefits in Fulton and staged "play days" for photographers at the Muddy River Camera Club in Clinton.

Johnson wants to share his experience and knowledge of digital photography to the extent that everyone can view the many aspects and beauty of our surroundings so they will not be overlooked. "When you live in the midst of such a magnificent natural environment that is so filled with an abundance of wildlife, some may tend to take it for granted. It is my hope that I can stimulate observation and appreciation for the varieties of the plants and creatures around us to the end that we will protect them".

Johnson's exhibit, along with a wide range of unique and hand-crafted items from wood-workings, greeting cards, jewelry, stained glass, pottery, knitted and crocheted work, sculptured pieces, beadwork, quiltings, blown glass and Savanna souvenirs, can be viewed during regular 321 Gallery hours Wednesday through Saturday for 10 AM to 4 PM and on Sunday from 1 to 4 PM. The 321 Gallery is closed on holidays

Conservation Guardians of NW Illinois Host 'Creatures of the Night'

Learn about our nocturnal friends. How do bats find their food in the dark and why are owl eyes so big? The Conservation Guardians of NW Illinois invite people of all ages to attend a free, educational workshop to discover amazing facts about nocturnal animals. The event will be held on Saturday, November 14th at 10:00 am at the Galena Adventure Center, located next to Fever River Outfitters just before the floodgates in downtown Galena. Space is limited, so reservations are requested. Please call (815) 858-9100 or email info@jdcf.org to reserve your space today. This program is targeted to grades 3-7 but all ages are welcome.

For more information about the Conservation Guardians of Northwest Illinois, visit the JDCF office at 126 N Main Street in Elizabeth, IL, call 815.858.9100, or find them online at www.jdcf.org.

Clarification . . .

In the October 28, 2009 Prairie Advocate News, an item in the article entitled "Artisans Group Making Progress With Holiday Shop Hop" needs clarification.

Speaking of the Carroll County Artisans Group (CCAG), formed this past summer, the article stated that "The group has hit the ground running with several projects already underway. Thanks to a USDA Rural Development Cooperative grant provided through the Illinois Institute for Rural Affairs (IRA), the group already has a website and brochure developed."

According to Heather A. Houzenga, president of the Artists' Cooperative of Savanna, nfp, "The (Carroll County) Artisan group did not receive a grant from the state for anything that has been accomplished so far. The Artists' Cooperative of Savanna, NFP received a grant and then decided it would be a good idea to help the group get started. The ACS paid for design and printing of brochures, and the website through this grant."

Thank you, Heather, for this information.
